The code of conduct at PSR College of Education articulates the expected standards of behaviour, emphasizing integrity, professionalism, and respect among students, faculty, and staff. It upholds academic integrity, delineates ethical norms, and cultivates a secure learning milieu. Ongoing training and equitable enforcement underscore its significance in preserving the institution's ethics and esteem.

Rules and Guidelines:

Punctuality: Punctuality is highly valued. Student teachers are expected to arrive on time for all classes and activities.

Academic Integrity: PSR College of Education upholds a strict policy on academic integrity. Plagiarism, cheating, and any form of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated.

Professional Conduct: Student teachers are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner at all times, both on and off-campus. This includes respecting colleagues, supervisors, and students.

Disciplinary Action: If it's found that there has been a breach, disciplinary action will be taken. The severity of the breach and the college's policies will determine the nature of the action. This could range from a warning or probation to suspension or expulsion, depending on the seriousness of the offense.

Appeals Process: There should be a mechanism in place for the accused party to appeal the decision if they believe it was unfair or unjust. This ensures due process and fairness in handling disciplinary matters.

Preventative Measures: In addition to addressing the specific breach, the college might also take steps to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future. This could involve reviewing and updating the Code of Conduct, providing education or training on expected behavior, or implementing additional support services for students.

Anti-Ragging Committee: PSR College of Education would likely have an anti-ragging committee comprising faculty members, administrative staff, and student representatives. This committee would be responsible for monitoring and preventing incidents of ragging on campus.

Beyond academic pursuits, PSR College of Education instills in its students a strong sense of professional ethics, preparing them to uphold ethical standards in their future careers as educators and leaders in the field of education. Through coursework, discussions, and practical experiences, students learn about the ethical responsibilities inherent in their profession, including maintaining confidentiality, promoting fairness and equity, and adhering to professional codes of conduct.
